FAIR OFFICERS GIVE REPORTS

ELECTION OF OFFICERS TO BE HELD FRIDAY, FEB. 24

There were only eight interested citizens present at the meeting of the Riverside Park Association held at Maple Inn Friday evening. On account of the small attendance it was considered best to hold the election of officers at a later meeting, and the time was devoted to reports of officers and discussion of the possibilities of this year's fair.

President Henry W. Boyker gave a brief account of the work of the past year and the situation at present. Secretary Clarence W. Hall read his report, and as the treasurer, Thomas I. Brown, was kept home by illness, the financial report was given by D. Grover Brooks. Although the total receipts last fall did not meet all the expenses, the organization made a better showing than many of the older fairs, and for several items for permanent improvements. The outstanding indebtedness, most of the items being for small premiums, will be taken care of soon, and the prospects are that the next fair will be even more successful.

It is planned to hold another meeting on the first Friday of next month, Feb. 3, at which time it is hoped that enough will be present so that officers may be elected and definite plans made for a more complete organization with a larger membership.

WHAT MIGHT HAVE BEEN A SERIOUS ACCIDENT

(As told by an eye witness)
Three young men from Woodstock, Jimmie Farrar, Earl Noyes, and Hazen Emery, took a motor trip recently to fish through the ice on North Pond, Greenwood. Wishing to cross the railroad track they attempted the feat only to have the car perform a wheel spin when about two thirds across. The boys tried every way possible to move the car up the slippery incline. So busily engaged were they that they failed to hear the warning train whistle when passing Locke Mills station. "Look, see the smoke!" They ran up the track to flag the train, an impossible task. On it came. The boys leaped from the path of the oncoming monster. It was over. All that remained of the obstinate little auto was a mass of twisted broken bits. The boys were safe. The owner of the car, Winfield Noyes, Earl's father, is in the market for another car.

WEST PARIS WOMAN 104 YEARS OLD TODAY

Mrs. Frances Noyes will reach her one hundred and fourth birthday on Thursday, Jan. 12. Mrs. Noyes has been remarkably bright and active in her recent weeks when she suffered an attack of bronchitis which weakened her considerably, and although recovering she is still confined to her bed. Mrs. Noyes is cared for by her daughter, Mrs. Ada Bennett, and great granddaughter, Ada Noyes, and great-granddaughter, Mrs. George Thompson. Mrs. Noyes was born in Bethel Jan. 12, 1829, the daughter of Joseph and Hannah (Dunlin) Stearns.

DR. CHAPMAN'S WIFE BADLY INJURED IN AUTO ACCIDENT

CAR SKIDS ON ICE ROAD AND GOES INTO TREE—DR. CHAPMAN SLIGHTLY HURT

We have just learned that Mrs. William R. Chapman, wife of Maine's widely known musical director, was quite seriously injured in an automobile accident, Friday, December 30th, and has been a patient at the St. Barnabas Hospital. She was brought home on the Pullman Monday night, and is making good progress toward recovery.

The accident occurred on the Gray road, opposite the old Portland Fair Grounds, as the Chapmans were on their way to Bethel. To avoid a collision with a car ahead, Dr. Chapman pulled his car sharply to the left, skidded on the icy road, and crashed into a large maple tree, demolishing the front end of the car. Dr. Chapman and his wife were taken to the St. Barnabas Hospital where it was found that Mrs. Chapman, in addition to being badly cut about the face by glass from the broken windshield, had severely injured both knees. Dr. Chapman was badly shaken up, bruised, and cut on the face.

GOULD SECOND WINS EXCITING 17-13 GAME IN FINAL MINUTES

Although the second teams of both Mexico and Gould played poor basketball they fought hard and before the encounter was over excitement ran high. With only a few minutes to play and Mexico leading, Mundi sank a sensational overhead shot that started a rally for Gould. Glover immediately followed with two baskets, making the score 17-13 to end the game. Glover led the scoring for Gould with eight points while McLeod with four points was best for Mexico.
Time—four sevens. Referee—Todd.

JOHN PRESTON TRICE

Born in Bethel, Maine.

Died in Waban, Mass., Jan. 5th, 1933.
A child of unusual interests. At eight years of age he was eagerly reading his father's scientific magazines. When invited to the home of Alexander Green Hubbard, father-in-law of Alexander Graham Bell, in Cambridge, for a long winter's visit, he was the delight of a scientific circle by his use of the Nat. History Museum in Boston, before he could speak in a happy freedom in Bethel, with amusing results, and filled an attic bookcase with writings. The "History of the Civil War" became a passion to him and in his early teens he was often used as an amusing authority. A delicate physique but a big brain. He was sent to Exeter but life's trial met him there. He was dead. But at the wonderful Roxbury Latin School, the finest in the land, he met wise recognition, and after two years he graduated with honors, particularly remarked upon for his unusual translations of Greek, at eight.

Then with a longing for a literary life he was obliged to enter business, and for forty years he was in Houghton and Mifflin's publishing house, from which he resigned ten years ago. During the years when deafness shut many doors, every moment of time he could command he used his pen. He wrote a series of clever books for boys, illustrated by his artistic wife, which recent publishers have asked him to extend.
His first book, at nineteen, found a friend in Louisa Alcott who felt he should have a life of the pen.
He was an unusually widely-read man; clever and witty with his pen; a passionate lover of classical music; a genial host in his own attractive home; a consistent Church member and reliable citizen.

He used many hours in developing physical strength and encouraged others by an eager enthusiasm for archery. A large circle will miss the unusual man, so filled with the sweet ideas of life. No cynical withered old man. He made the very most of life as it came to him and he was intrinsically fine.
Mr. William Bingham and speaking of his long acquaintance says of him, "a very gallant gentleman."
He can be spoken of as he has been by those who knew him best.
"Blessed are the pure in heart" He was the happiest soul we ever knew.

The following extract from an article in the New York Times will be of interest to the friends of Mr. Trice: "He wrote many books, most of which appealed to children. Among them were 'Their Club and Our', published in 1883; 'Shoulder Arms', 'The Iron Star', 'Scouting for Washington', 'Morgan's Men', 'On Guard Against Tary and Tarleton', and 'Scouting for Light Horse Harry'. The last was published in 1911.
"Mr. Trice was secretary-treasurer of the National Archery Association in 1918 and secretary-treasurer of the Newton Archers from 1916 to 1922."

PROMINENT WEST PARIS COUPLE CELEBRATE

MR. AND MRS. H. R. TUELL OBSERVE GOLDEN WEDDING

One of the pleasant social events of the season was the golden wedding anniversary reception of Mr. and Mrs. Horatio Russ Tuell at the Universalist church, W. Paris, Friday evening. Good Will Hall, where the reception was held, was beautifully decorated with evergreens. The stage, where the 44 Class Band was seated, was converted into a garden scene, and the guests of honor were seated beneath an arch of green with yellow roses, baskets of cut flowers, wedding bells, and gold decoration in evidence around the hall.

The program consisted of music by the 44 Class Band; greetings from absent friends read by Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes; piano solo, Gertrude Mann; vocal solo with banjo accompaniment, Walter Imman; music, band; remarks and prayer, Rev. A. E. Maxwell, pastor United Parish church; original poem, Rev. Eleanor B. Forbes.

Mrs. Albert Jackson was in charge of the guest book. Following the program refreshments were served. The wedding cake was cut and served by a granddaughter, Gertrude Mann, and a niece, Mrs. Lillie Tuell Bowker. The ushers and servers were Glendine Ring, Shirley Welch, Myrtle Emery, Elvora Curtis, Albert Jackson and Clayton Gammon. After refreshments the company enjoyed a pleasant hour with Warren Stearns, pianist. Mr. and Mrs. Tuell received many pretty and valuable gifts.

Mr. and Mrs. Tuell were united in marriage on New Years eve, 1883, by the Rev. Alexander Hill at the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Paine Curtis, in Greenwood. They came directly to live in the home where they now reside. Mr. Tuell was the youngest of the family of seven children born to Gilman and Maria (Houghton) Tuell and was born at North Paris where he lived until the age of 16 when the family moved to West Paris. For the past 52 years he has been in the milk business which he still conducts, with the exception of a short time when he was shipping clerk in a factory at Fryeburg. Besides his farming and milk business he has been occupied with finishing and painting, and for 25 years was substitute carrier on the R. P. D. routes from West Paris post office. For more than 40 years he sang in a church choir and answered any demand for music where a bass singer was needed. He was a cornetist in the original West Paris band. He is a republican in politics; in religious belief a Universalist.

Mrs. Tuell was Miss Geneva Gertrude Curtis, and was born in Greenwood on the Paine farm, where her ancestors came in 1817. She attended the schools of Greenwood, Woodstock and Paris and Bryant's Pond High School. Mrs. Tuell began teaching in rural summer school during vacation at the age of 15 years and continued teaching until her marriage. She is a member of the Universalist church and its auxiliaries and a lineal descendant of the pioneer Universalists in this section. She is a member of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union and the Bates Literary Club. For the past 25 years she has been a correspondent for weekly and daily newspapers.

Like most people of older years, Mr. and Mrs. Tuell have known joy and sorrow. The death of a daughter, Nina Houghton, at the age of one year in 1887, the death of a daughter, Elinor Heath Mann, in 1923 at the age of 29 years, and the death of a grandchild, Geneva Heath Mann, in 1918 are among the sorrows which they have shared. Their nearest surviving relatives are three grandchildren: Lewis Jacob Mann of the University of Maine; Gertrude Caroline Mann of West Paris High School; and Edwin Mabel Mann, a pupil in West Paris grammar school; and a great granddaughter, Constance Elinor Mann.

Relatives who attended the anniversary from away were Mrs. Esther Bishop Tuell and Mrs. F. L. French of Bethel, Mr. and Mrs. Irvin L. Bowker of Portland, also Mr. and Mrs. George G. Tuell and children, Gilman, Helen and Barbara of West Paris. Nearly 125 were present but many were detained at home by the epidemic. Mrs. Tuell's mother, Mrs. Cynthia Heath Curtis, survives and retains her mental faculties and is in fairly good health for a lady of 91.

BETHEL BOY PLAYS BASKET BALL ON WEST POINT SQUAD

JAMES D. ALGER ON TEAM FACING FIFTEEN GAME SCHEDULE FOR THIS SEASON

Cadet James D. Alger of West Point, son of Mrs. Constance D. Alger of Bethel, is a member of the 1933 Army basketball squad, Major P. B. Fleming announced last week. Alger, who is a member of the class of 1935, was appointed to West Point by Senator Frederick Hale. Prior to entering West Point, he attended the Swavely School at Manassas, Virginia.

While athletics occupy a definite role in the West Point curriculum, Major Fleming explained, cadets must maintain high academic standards in every subject in order to engage in varsity sports. Standings are published weekly and failure to remain proficient results in the cadet's immediate removal from the squad.

During the coming season Alger's team will play a 15 game schedule including contests with Penn, Pittsburgh, Colgate, Dartmouth and the Navy. Away from West Point games are with Penn State at State College, Pa., and Ohio State at Columbus, Ohio.

ARRESTED AND TRIED FOR 1931 ROBBERY

MARSHALL ROLFE PLEADS NOT GUILTY BUT PROBABLE CAUSE IS FOUND

Marshall Rolfe of Albany was arraigned before Trial Justice George D. Daniels of Gilead, Tuesday of last week on the charge of breaking and entering at the Blanchard estate in Mason on October 25, 1931, when many articles were taken, including clothing, rifles, dishes, silverware and canned goods. The arrest was made by Deputy Sheriff Chester Cummings of Bethel.

Witnesses for the prosecution were George Westleigh, Gilman Hutchinson, Paul Head, Mrs. Jennie Hutchinson, and Alfred Merrill, while testimony for the defense was given by Ray Mills and Mrs. Thelma Morse. Rolfe pleaded not guilty, but probable cause was found and he was bound over to the February term of Superior Court, $500 bail being furnished by Myron Morrill and Guy Morrill of Mason.

GOULD-MEXICO PLAY SENSATIONAL GAME

THREE MINUTES OVERTIME GIVEN MEXICO 26-25 VICTORY

Mexico kept its record clean by defeating Gould Academy in a sensational overtime game after the scoring had been knotted 23-23 when the final whistle blew. The game was fast and furious from the starting whistle, with Mexico gaining a slight lead, 4-2 at the first period. Gould however ran up 12 points to Mexico's six in the second period, leaving the score 14-10 for Gould at the half time.

During the third period the players were nearly even with Mexico gaining one point on the leaders, the score being 20-17 for Gould when the final quarter began. In this period Mexico rallied to go ahead of the locals but Allen dropped a basket with only a minute to go which tied the score. Long shots from the center of the floor and even beyond the center spelled defeat for the "Blue and Gold."

In the extra three minutes of play Gould scored first but Furbush sank a long shot from beyond the center line to again knot the count. Allen fouled Gladen in the act of shooting, giving him two free throws, one of which he made and the one that clinched the game for the pilots.

The fans were given a treat of fast and hard basketball. The game was so hard fought that personal contact was unavoidable and hence the type of basketball that fans enjoy seeing.

Keep Watch for the "Feverish Cold" will send you a booklet, "Attacks by getting out of the system." Mrs. E. W. Stephan of 31 Kennerly Road, Dorchester, Mass., writes: "It was recommended to me by a relative who had used it for years, and I in turn most sincerely recommend it, most of all for children, but also as a laxative for adults."

D. S. BROOKS' LETTER

January 12, 1933

THE ARCH-CONSPIRATOR!

John Milton devoted many months of hard study to the consideration of that early historical event which has resulted in the terror and hardship of the ages—known as Man's disobedience—before this poet gave to the world his immortal production, "Paradise Lost." If we have sufficient interest to read, and meditate upon this narrative, we will at once discover the plot back of Adam's temptation. Bible scholars have in every age spent much of their time in this discussion. And as we, also, meditate in profound thought, we marvel that such an enlightened spirit as the covering, or guardian, angel should have conceived a sinful thought of treason and conspired for Jehovah's overthrow. A logical reasoning presents itself at this point, that if man in the beginning—endowed with intelligence—inspired after the image of his Maker—surrounded by every necessary comfort—having an immortal soul could be tempted to disobey the command of Jehovah—it would be the worst revenge that Satan could possibly contrive for a come-back because of his expulsion from Heaven. He brought the curse to the human family by causing Man's downfall. Now right here, in considering this demon, there is a diversity of opinion. Some very good people argue that "Satan" mentioned in Holy Writ is but an evil thought, or suggestion; that all we have to do is to deny that it exists and it is gone. Others claim that this fiend is a distinct personality having a literal place of abode: sending forth his messengers to tempt man to sin. Since there is so much evil in our world today, that threatens to wreck all established forms of government—it is profitable for us to give the matter much serious thought. The Bible gives us a concise definition and ample illustrations of "Sin." It's the opposite of Righteousness. Whether we think of sin in the concrete or abstract, its author is Satan. Let us make brief comparison of these mighty leaders in their relation to man's interests. God seeks the happiness of his creatures—Satan revels in the misery of the race, God's methods are constructive—Satan's are destructive. God made a beautiful world for man to enjoy. Satan sows seeds of "hatred" and "war" to destroy it. God sent His Son into the World to give Life—Satan caused unbelief to nullify the "Cross."

Pause a moment for careful thought. Have you and I any cause for alarm? Is the world in this present darkness reaching out to find God? It is very significant that some governments and leading world powers are leaving Almighty God out of their programmes. While in little communities where active Church enterprise has been kept alive, the people feel that Christianity is making a real gain. But the world over, this is not the case. Sin is waxing worse and worse! Let us not let like the poor, silly, hunted ostrich that buries his head in the sand, closing his eyes to danger that is right upon him. Some people say that they don't want to be bothered with religion, and are blinded by the bands of delusion. But I do not like to think that this is true of a really intelligent man or woman. The signs of the times are easy to interpret.

In statistical reports of our Churches, figures are very misleading in determining spiritual growth. They can hardly be relied upon for the true standing of any local society. Numbers do not mean strength. More often a large Church membership is a serious handicap in too many cases unregenerated persons have been admitted. A Church conducted as a theatre, or a place to "smoke" hams, is not a saving institution; and is denounced by our Saviour. Worldliness creeping into the House of God is the work of that arch-conspirator, the devil. It kills out spirituality! It is one reason why the Church has been so inefficient in bringing about World Peace. If there is confusion in the Temple Worship, how may we reasonably expect the great Geneva Conference to succeed in clearing the "Ship of all Nations" through the narrow Strait of World Peace into God's boundless Sea of Human-kindness?

Mrs. Franklin Roosevelt, wife of our President-elect, has said, "Perhaps the fundamental cause of all wars is the fact that very few people actually live in their daily lives the religion which they profess." As a minister of God for nearly thirty years, I must continue to be true to my calling, sounding a warning in these perilous times, to all who have adopted the name of "Christian." I make no distinction: It's your Church and mine that needs to move up closer to the Divine.

The commandment "Thou shalt have no other Gods before me," has been junked. Do we comprehend what this means? Here's the acid test: are you willing to follow Christ and deny from His cap? Have sinful appetites been crucified? Are we living out the Golden Rule in our lives? The new year has begun and we are living the second week. How about our consecration and devotion? When we give the square end of the deal to the other fellow and live, daily, consciously that Christ is walking in our side, we can say, "Gloria be to God!" and the Lord will have confidence in our profession and starting hearts who need the Bread of Life will gather at his table in the real Church and be fed. Call me a fanatic, or what you will, I can prove every argument that I shall advance this year by the Word of God and present-day conditions. Nineteen thirty-three is a gracious year and it extends the Day of Grace for repentance toward God and receiving his forgiveness; but bear record: if we do our part to prevent the bloodiest war that was ever known from sweeping the face of the Earth, in the very near future, it will depend solely upon a world-wide revival to God. The precious fruit, gathered from our missionary field at home and abroad, has until recently been most encouraging. But there is heard a wail of anguish from far-distant points, showing a pitiful decline in the work from present lack of funds. There is a serious "letting up" in our efforts in spiritual endeavors. But Satan's cause prospers, and worldly enterprises succeed more than ever. Listen!—"To your tents, O Israel!" and go down on your faces before God, and pray through, until Light comes; and you will come forth with shining faces, and be enthusiastic evangelists of God; and the World will soon be restored to everlasting Peace, and Satan will be bound.

ON D. S. BROOKS' LETTER, "THE ORIGIN OF CHRISTMAS"

Richmond, Virginia, Jan. 2, 1933
The Oxford County Citizen,
Carl L. Brown, Publisher,
Dear Sir:

The Christmas number (Dec. 22, 1932) of the Oxford County Citizen was sent me by a friend and much enjoyed by Mr. Harrison and me.

The letter from D. S. Brooks, "The Origin of Christmas" is very interesting. I enjoyed it all until I got down to next to the last paragraph. "But Tomorrow something may happen in your experience that will bring sorrow and anguish to your heart," etc. "My lips are sealed on a most important matter! I cannot disclose to you my thoughts other than to warn you, dear reader, to study your Bible, for a most startling circumstance awaits the Earth just ahead."

Now I think that it is too bad, if there is a most startling circumstance just ahead, to seal one's lips. Curiosity might induce a few to look into this matter. The Bible is a large book, and uninitiated persons might not know, when they did find it, that it is the startling circumstance D. S. Brooks means. I know that it is a matter of great importance, and it might take a long time to find it; of the startling circumstance might take place before it is found. Therefore I have hunted up some scriptures that I hope may enlighten and prove beneficial.

We often have heard the expression "The end of the World." Everyone has some concern about that, and it is a settled fact in his mind, that there will be a last day.

Now, there is another day, and it is the one D. S. Brooks has in mind. It is just as important as the last day. It is when the Lord Jesus returns to take his blood bought children away to Himself. We do not know just when that will be, neither does He, but His Father will send him; and because he has been so patient with sinners; not willing that any should perish; man thinks that it is all a mistake. Jesus came once according to scripture and he is sure to come again. The last verse of the Bible reads: "Surely I come quickly."
